EXAM PREREQUISITES

The Construction Trades Qualifying (CTQB) must review and approve your application prior to taking an exam. As a prerequisite for taking the journeyman examination, all applicants for electrical, burglar alarm, fire alarm and sign electrician must have on the date of filing, three years proven field experience in the trade or, education equivalent thereto, or a combination thereof, but not more than one-half of such experience may be education equivalent.

Field experience is defined as experience gained at actual construction sites where the full spectrum of practical situations and problems arising in the trade are found. Drafting, estimating, designing, other office work or maintenance or service installations do not satisfy the requirement.

As a prerequisite for taking the Maintenance Electrician examination, the CTQB requires one year of proven experience in this type of work.

All applicants must submit no later than the deadline date for filing (no exceptions) an application and the following:

- Proof of experience through letters from employers stating the dates of employment and description of work performed. These letters must be signed by the qualifier, president or officer of the respective business and include their license number.
- W-2 tax document(s) covering the employment period.

EXAM DETAILS

The examinations will be open book. Only those books listed on the NAI Block reference sheet may be brought to the examination. All electrical specialty and maintenance electrician examinations are one part, three hours. A minimum grade of 75% is required for passing the electrical specialty exam and 70% for electrical maintenance. The journeyman electrical is a two-part examination - each part is three hours. In the case of this two-part examination, a grade of 75% must be attained on each part in order to be considered as having passed the examination. If an applicant passes one part and fails the other part, he/she will be given one year to retake only that portion he/she failed. For reciprocity of Journeyman categories with other counties in the State of Florida, you must obtain at least 75% on proctored exams and meet the requirements as outlined in Florida Statutes 489.1455.

Applications and reference sheets for these examinations may be obtained at the Miami-Dade County Building Code Compliance Office, Contractor Licensing Section, 140 W. Flagler Street, Suite 1602, Miami, Florida 33130. The examination reference sheet contains a list of books for the test and additional important information of subjects covered on the exam.

It is the policy of Miami-Dade County to comply with all the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If you need special accommodations, please contact Gail Childress at EXPERIOR ASSESSMENTS, (304) 766-0985 before the examination date.

This notice is in accordance with Section 10-12 of the Code of Miami-Dade County and is hereby posted.
